

From Intermediate to Intentional

Ocean Lineage Week

Southern Costa Rica
September 6–12

Limited to 8 Surfers

You're Not a Beginner. But You're Not Where You Want to Be.

You catch waves.
You stand up consistently.
You trim.
But you hesitate on steeper drops.
You fade instead of committing.
You struggle to link sections.
Your style feels inconsistent.
This is the intermediate plateau.
And it's not about talent.
It's about structure.
Repetition.
And the right eye on you.

Ocean Lineage Is Not a Surf Vacation. It's a progression system.

For surfers who are done dabbling.
This week is built around:

- Consecutive days with the same coach
- Structured video breakdown & correction
- Repetition in the right conditions
- Longboard-focused flow training
- Real-time technical adjustments
- Mental commitment on steeper sections

You don't need more waves.
You need guided repetition.

The Wave Shapes the Surfer

Long, flowing sections.
Predictable lines.
Room to read the wave instead of reacting to it.

This environment allows:

- Extended trim refinement
- Early entry precision
- Section linking
- Real footwork development
- Commitment training on longer rides

You don't just surf here.
You evolve here.

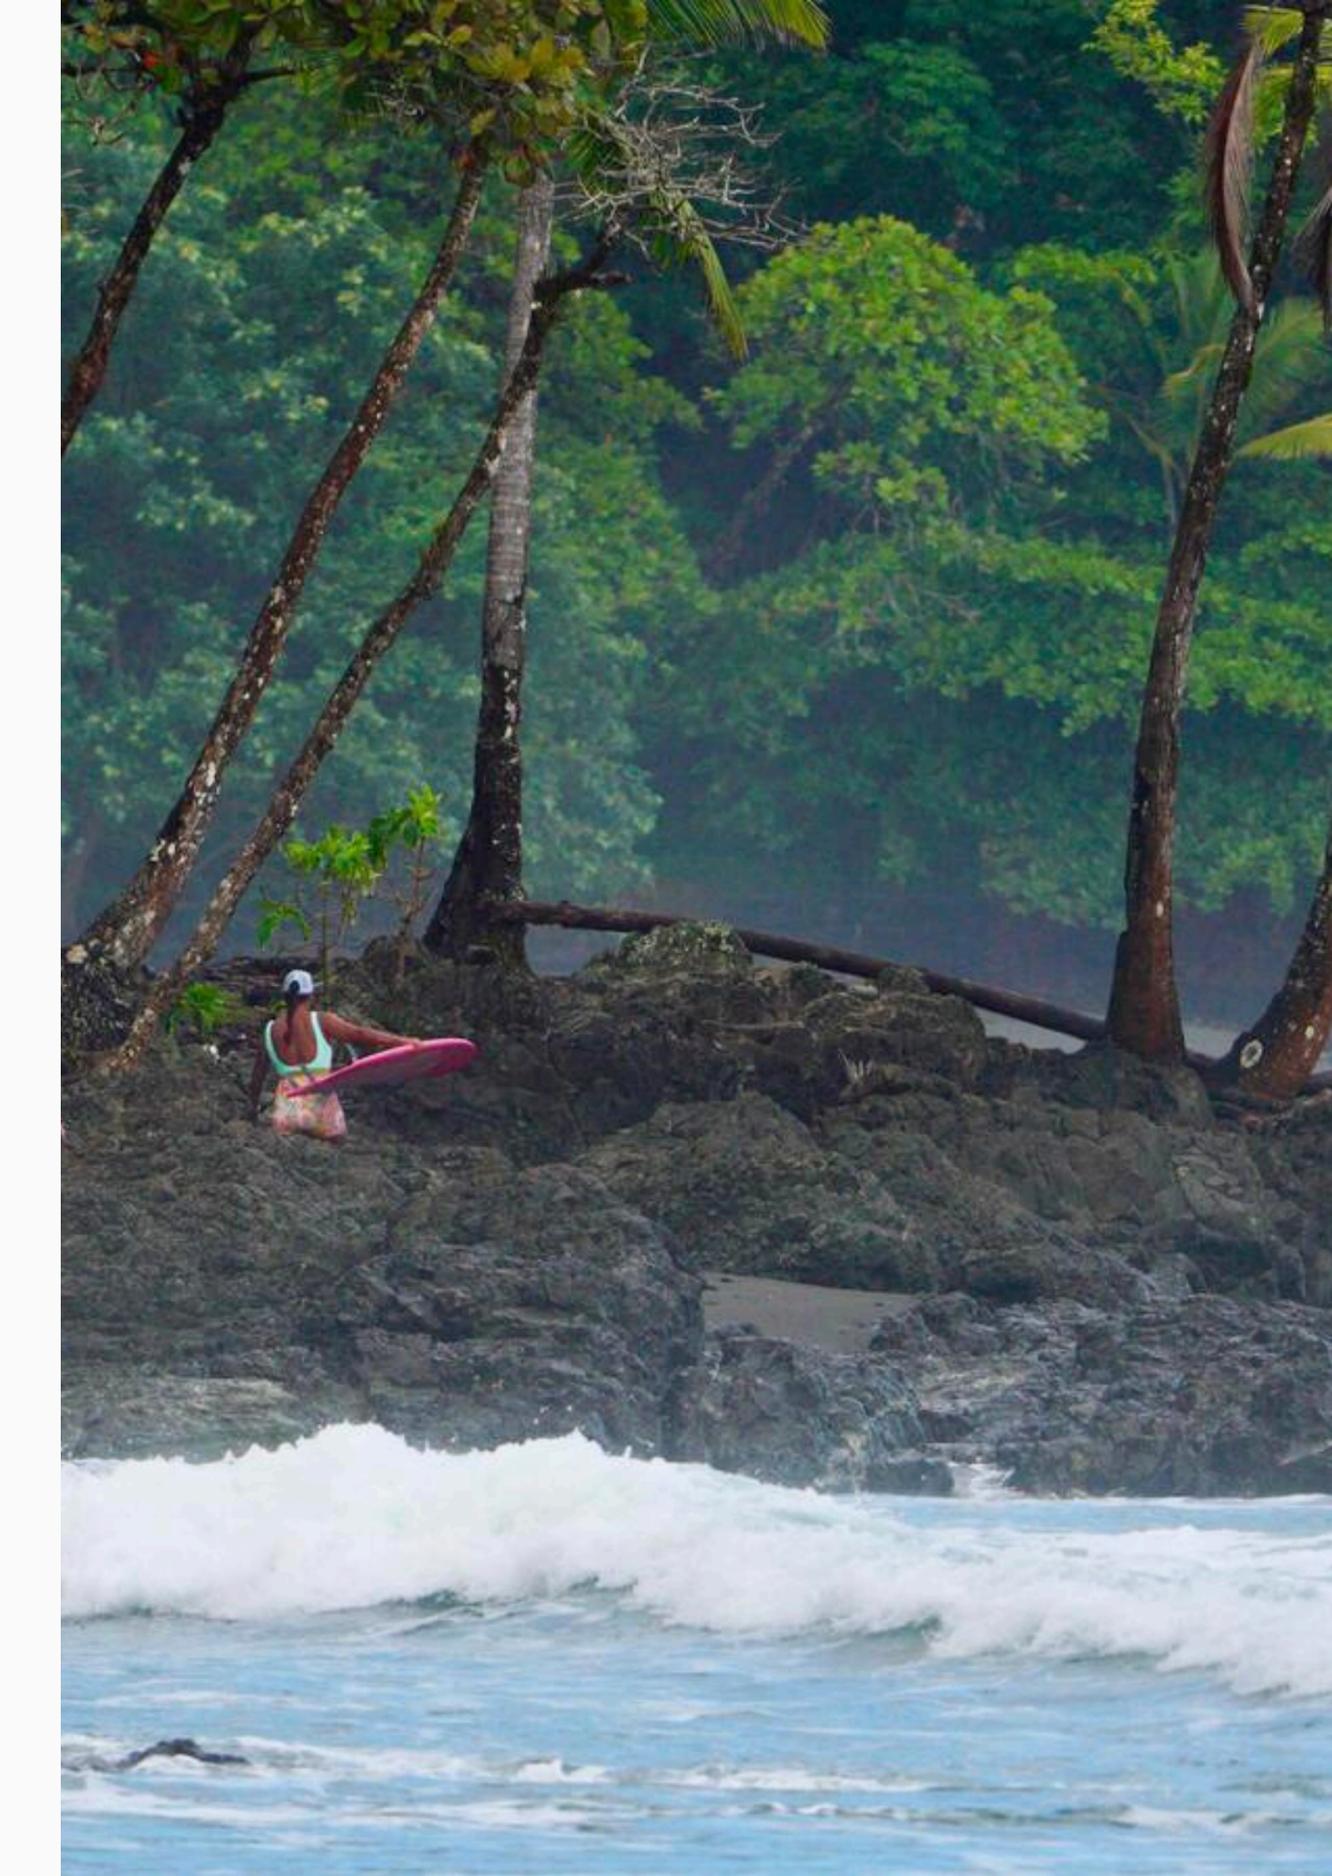

This Week Is For You If...

- ✓ You surf consistently
- ✓ You feel stuck at the intermediate plateau
- ✓ You want refinement — not just wave count
- ✓ You value small-group immersion
- ✓ You're ready to commit to progression

- ✗ You've never surfed before
- ✗ You're looking for a party retreat
- ✗ You want casual drop-in lessons
- ✗ You prefer big-group energy

Ocean Lineage is selective by design.

Limited to 8 surfers.

Progress Requires Structure

Morning Session

Tide-optimized surf window
Technical focus of the day
In-water correction

Midday Reset

Rest + integration
Optional mobility or ocean-reading session

Afternoon Session

Applied repetition
Wave selection refinement
Section linking focus

Evening

Optional video review
Micro-adjustments for next session

Consecutive days.
Same coach.
Compounded progress.

Immersive. Intentional. Intimate.

Ocean Lineage is intentionally capped at eight surfers.

You stay within easy access of the region's best lefts.

You move as a focused group.

You surf with purpose.

You rest with intention.

No crowded lineups.

No chaotic schedules.

No diluted attention.

Just repetition, refinement, and space to integrate.

Main House

Elevated ocean views

Increased privacy

What Shifts When Structure Is Applied

In one week, you begin to:

- Commit earlier on steeper drops
- Trim with intention — not reaction
- Link sections cleanly
- Refine wave selection
- Stay composed under pressure
- Develop visible flow

“She arrived catching waves consistently but hesitating on critical sections. By day four, she was committing earlier and linking sections cleanly. By day six, her timing had shifted.”
